

Webinar: Meeting Students' Needs through Increased Learning Time

September 18, 2014

2:30–4:30 p.m. (EDT)

Agenda

Presenters

Dr. Lydotta Taylor, Task 2 Lead, REL Appalachia

Dr. Jim Lindsay, Senior Research Analyst, American Institutes for Research

Dr. Yael Kidron, Senior Research Analyst, American Institutes for Research

Dr. Joe McKown, Vice President, The National Center on Time & Learning

Ms. Blaire Denson, Director, Virginia Partnership for Out-of-School Time

Dr. Carol K. McElvain, Principal TA Consultant, American Institutes for Research

2:30–2:35 p.m.

Welcome and Overview

Lydotta Taylor

2:35–2:55 p.m.

What Does the Research Say about Increased Learning Time and Student Outcomes? (Introducing the new REL Appalachia report)

Jim Lindsay

2:55–3:15 p.m.

Translating the Evidence on Increased Learning Time into Practice

Yael Kidron

3:15–3:35 p.m.

Aligning Increased Learning Time Academic Supports with Student Data

Joe McKown

3:35–3:50 p.m.

Expanded Learning Opportunities: A Smart Investment (The Virginia Partnership for Out-of-School Time)

Blaire Denson

3:50–4:10 p.m.

Examining Increased Learning Time Practice in Context

Carol McElvain

4:10–4:15 p.m.

Wrap-up

Lydotta Taylor

4:15–4:30 p.m.

Stakeholder Feedback Survey