Our mission is to support a more evidence-based education system by partnering with policymakers and practitioners to conduct applied research and training in Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas.

More than 60 partners, including representatives from state education agencies, districts, institutes of higher education, and other organizations, shape our work.

Our partnerships include . . .

- Southwest College and Career Readiness Research Partnership
- Southwest Early Childhood Education Research Partnership
- Southwest English Learners Research Partnership
- Southwest Networked Improvement Community Research Partnership
- Southwest School Improvement Research Partnership
- Southwest Teacher Preparation and Professional Development Research Partnership

. . . and address educational challenges faced by students in our region, who include:

- English learners
- American Indian students
- Hispanic students
- Students from low-income households
- Students in rural settings
- Students in urban settings

To learn more about REL Southwest partnerships, follow us on Twitter @RELSouthwest.

Note: REL partnerships are constantly evolving to meet the needs of the states and districts in the region. The information presented above is current as of August 2019.

Disclaimer: This work was funded by the U.S. Department of Education’s Institute of Education Sciences (IES) under contract ED-IES-17-C-0007, administered by American Institutes for Research. The content of the infographic does not necessarily reflect the views or policies of IES or the U.S. Department of Education, nor does mention of trade names, commercial products, or organizations imply endorsement by the U.S. government.

REL Southwest is operated by the American Institutes for Research.