

Webinar Agenda: Using Questioning Strategies to Support Struggling Math Students

Wednesday, Sept. 20, 2017
1:00 p.m.–2:30 p.m. (Mountain Time)

Participants will be provided with an overview and in-depth presentation of strategies educators can use to support struggling math students. Participants will receive the following information and instruction:

- An introduction into the What Works Clearinghouse practice guide Assisting Students Struggling with Mathematics: Response to Intervention for Elementary and Middle Schools (Gersten et al., 2009)
- An overview of the practice guide's eight recommendations
- A close review of Explicit and Systematic Instruction and discussion of how to implement its use
- A guided explanation of questioning strategies and discussion of how to implement that framework into instruction

Agenda

1:00 p.m. Introduction to the Webinar

Facilitator: David Yanoski (REL Central)

Participants will receive an overview of the webinar's platform features and chat instruction, an introduction to the practice guide and WWC resources, and anticipated outcomes and presenter information.

1:05 p.m. Introduction to Assisting Students Struggling in Mathematics: Response to Intervention for Elementary and Middle Schools

Presenter: Barb Dougherty (University of Hawaii)

Participants will receive an overview of the practice guide and its eight recommendations, and they will participate in a focused discussion on how to carry out study guide recommendations.

1:30 p.m. Close Review of Study Guide Recommendations #3 – Explicit Systematic Instruction

Presenter: Barb Dougherty

Participants will look more deeply into the study guide's recommendation focused on explicit and specific instruction and its implementation, and they will share one concrete step based on strategies for improving instruction.

1:50 p.m. Questioning Strategies – An Example of Explicit and Systematic Instruction

Presenter: Barb Dougherty

Participants will receive instruction so as to become familiar with the questioning framework and options, and they will be encouraged to share specific strategies to implement the questioning framework.

2:25 p.m. Closing

Facilitator: David Yanoski

Facilitator will provide closing remarks and information on how to view webinar and other resources on REL Central's website.
