

Midwest Career Readiness Research Alliance

Research Update • February 2018

Personalized learning: Answering implementation questions

The Midwest Career Readiness Research Alliance's new networked improvement community will examine the implementation of Personal Learning Plans for students' career preparation.

Read more ➔

---

Developing future-ready students in rural areas

Regional events help inform REL Midwest's work around rural issues, particularly when it comes to ensuring that students graduate ready to enter the workforce.

Read more ➔

---

Bringing a school counselor perspective to our career readiness work

The newest member of the Midwest Career Readiness Research Alliance, Leah Zimmerman, is a licensed school counselor who helps students chart their career paths amid the ever-changing world of work.

Read more ➔

---

Have you seen these recent career readiness resources?

You won't want to miss these resources from the College and Career Readiness and Success Center focused on the education-to-workforce pipeline and REL Midwest on American Indian education.

Read more

---

In case you missed us on TV...

Did you know that we work with public television stations across the Midwest to produce documentary-style programs about education research? Our 2017 programs are now available to watch online:

- Learning English: Diverse Students in American Classrooms
- State of Teacher Preparation: Research and Stories from Early Years in the Classroom
- Learning Upgrade: Technology in Iowa Schools

---

Contact Us

Please contact us for more information about any of the items in this newsletter or to speak to a member of our staff. We look forward to hearing from you.

REL Midwest at American Institutes for Research
10 S. Riverside Plaza, Suite 600
Chicago, IL 60606

---

This material was prepared under Contract ED-IES-17-C-0007 by Regional Educational Laboratory Midwest, administered by American Institutes for Research. The content of the publication does not necessarily reflect the views or policies of the Institute of Education Sciences (IES) or the U.S. Department of Education, nor does mention of trade names, commercial products, or organizations imply endorsement by the U.S. government.