How can states equip school districts to adopt evidence-based interventions?

The Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) requires districts to use evidence-based interventions in low-performing schools. But how do districts know which programs meet ESSA’s evidence threshold? Learn how one state department of education is approaching this challenge with help from REL Midwest.

Read more

Introducing the Midwest Alliance to Improve Knowledge Utilization

REL Midwest’s newest research alliance aims to learn more about effective strategies for increasing the uptake of research results by state and local education agency staff.

Read more

What predicts early college success in Indiana?

Our new report helps stakeholders understand the early college success of students entering Indiana’s public 2- and 4-year colleges, with a specific focus on students receiving financial aid.
Interested in digging deeper on this topic? Our next webinar on April 24 will discuss financial aid and college readiness supports.

Register for the webinar

Ask A REL resource roundup

Look no further than the Ask A REL reference desk for your education research questions. Check out this compilation of our most recent Ask A REL responses across a variety of topics.

Read more

Education Week spotlights researcher and practitioner perspectives on online teacher survey

Check us out in Education Week! Colleagues from REL Midwest’s earlier work on virtual education wrote about our study on online teachers’ experiences to illustrate a research-practice partnership in action.

Read more

Contact Us

Please contact us for more information about any of the items in this newsletter or to speak to a member of our staff. We look forward to hearing from you.

REL Midwest at American Institutes for Research
10 S. Riverside Plaza, Suite 600
Chicago, IL 60606

This material was prepared under Contract ED-IES-17-C-0007 by Regional Educational Laboratory Midwest, administered by American Institutes for Research. The content of the publication does not necessarily reflect the views or policies of the Institute of Education Sciences (IES) or the U.S. Department of Education, nor does mention of trade names, commercial products, or organizations imply endorsement by the U.S. government.