The screenshot shows the homepage of the REL Southwest website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the IES REL logo, the text 'Regional Educational Laboratory Program', a menu icon, and a search bar. Below the navigation bar is a large orange map of the Southwest United States (New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, and Arkansas). To the right of the map is the REL Southwest logo and a headline: 'REL Southwest: Putting Research into Action'. Below the headline is a sub-headline: 'The Regional Educational Laboratory Southwest translates research to practice in partnership with policymakers and practitioners in Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas.' Below the map and headline is a dark blue section with the text: 'The 10 Regional Educational Laboratories (RELs) work in partnership to conduct applied research and training with a mission of supporting a more evidence-based education system. Learn more about REL Southwest.' To the right of this text are navigation links: 'Our Work', 'Partnerships', 'Publications', and 'Events'. Below these links are social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, and LinkedIn, and a 'Stay Up to Date' button. Below the dark blue section is a 'WHAT'S NEW AT REL SOUTHWEST' section with two entries: 'JUL 12 Introducing Our New Blog: The REL Southwest Roundup' and 'MAY 5 Snapshot of REL Southwest's Collaborative Research Partnerships'. To the right of this section is an 'ASK A REL' section with the text: 'Ask A REL is a collaborative reference desk service provided by the 10 RELs and funded through the same way as a virtual reference library.' Below the 'ASK A REL' text is a small image of a person's hands typing on a laptop keyboard in a library setting.
